NEW GOLD DISCOVERIES.
The North Idaho Radiator gives glowing accounts of new gold discoveries in the Coeur d'Alene country, about 100 miles from Lewiston. Three distinct gold-yielding basins, one much larger than the others, have been discovered, all producing coarse gold, and exceeding in richness Florence Camp in its palmy days. Mr. Burnside, a most truthful man, says dirt was washed from seven different holes in the Moose Creek mines, prospecting from 25c to 50c to the pan. He intends returning immediately with a party. Mr. Ball, an old mountaineer, writes to his brother to drop everything and come immediately. Coeur d'Alene is the destination of all who are foot-loose; while those held by business engagements can scarcely brook the feverish inclination to rush with the multitude.—S. F. Alta, 2d inst.

MR. WALDRON, of the Kootenai Express, reports no provisions in the mines when he left, and many were dependent solely upon fishing and hunting for subsistence, and compelled to go hungry for days at a time. On his way down, Mr. Waldron met a small pack-trail which he thinks will reach Fisherville next Sunday. There are other trains on the road which will be arriving in the mines every few days after that date, but the amount of provisions now on the road will be consumed nearly, or quite, as fast as it is taken in. The snow has all disappeared from the road and in the mines, the weather being warm and pleasant there. Miners could not work, solely on account of having no provisions.—Northern Exchange.

When Colfax and party call a visit to portions of the mountain ranges and settlements of Colorado. In all of which they were enthusiastically welcomed. At Central and Black Hawk cities, and particularly in Denver, this distinguished delegation was honored with the highest hospitality and consideration—such as the characteristic statesmanship, national, moral, literary and social style and manner of these genial gentlemen deserve, and draws from all who meet them. By the Denver papers we perceive that Senator Colfax was waited upon by the members of the Printers' Union at Denver, the morning of his departure from there, and presented by Maj. S. Whitely (editor of the late Commonwealth) on their behalf, with a "Composing Rule" made of solid Colorado gold, and a gold set of shirt buttons—articles appropriate to him, as a former printer and, at present, a "single man." But, we must quote from the report; as it will be anxiously perused by all:

PRESENTATION TO HON. S. COLFAX.
Yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, the members of the Typographical Union waited upon the Hon. Schuyler Colfax, and by the hands of Simon Whitely, Esq., presented to him a golden composing rule with appropriate inscriptions; also a pair of elegant sleeve buttons. Mr. Whitely accompanied the present with the following remarks:

Mr. Colfax—These gentlemen, members of the Typographical Union, who some time ago made use of an honorary member of their association, have conferred upon me the additional honor of expressing their gratification of greeting you in this City of the Plains. To-morrow you continue your journey over other thousands of miles, through the magnificent mountains, whose Pacific slopes are just over yonder snowy peaks. What you have seen during the past weeks will probably never be forgotten by you, neither will you ever forget the pleasure of taking by the hand a gentleman who, attaining nearly the highest position in the Republic, commenced life in so close a connection with their art, as gives them the right claim to call you a fellow craftsman of the art preservative of art, which illuminates the world; turning the darkness of ignorance and vice into the glorious day of a noble and christian civilization. You have honored the craft; they are proud to honor you in return.

Great joy and face were very close together, but before parting, let me hand you one of these my friends this beautiful specimen of Colorado gold, which has been worked into this implement of our craft—a composing rule. Keep it as a talisman, and when you return home, after a summer of pleasure and profit, of vast accumulation of knowledge, and the gaining of broader views of the hitherto hidden wealth and resources of our beloved country, you may tell the people and tell our National Congress, that in regard to titles to our mines, to protection from savages—to our postal facilities—and the opening up of rail roads and communication, all our people ask is an application of that better "golden rule," of which this is a type. Tell them too, Mr. Colfax, that the printers of Colorado are at right, and always have been right on the maintenance of the Union, and so long as that is the case, there can be no danger of the public at large going astray.

And now, sir, knowing that a man on his travels, is oftentimes annoyed by the loss of a button, they also present you with this set; which will not wash off. I must not forget to say that while on coming down to the house, some of these friends told me to tell you, that among all the men of the nation, you stand pre-eminently the advocate and representative of Colorado's interest, and that they hoped the time would come when the electoral vote of Colorado would contribute to make you President of the United States.

Wishing you good health, hoping that your days may be lengthened—(as we know they will ever be employed for your country's good)—it only remains for me to bid you God speed on your almost solemn journey, and a safe return to your home and friends, though you will nowhere find warmer ones than in Colorado.

Mr. Colfax replied with some very appropriate remarks. In the course of which he begged to say, that this was the first nomination that he had received, and he felt highly flattered thereby, but he begged to decline the honor, and reminded them of the fact, that out of thirty millions of people in the United States, there were twenty-nine millions had aspirations for the Presidency. But he belonged to the last one million who had no such aspirations, being fully satisfied with the position he had already attained. He thanked them very kindly for this testimonial of their esteem and well wishes.

EVENING SERVICES, ETC.—On Sunday evening we had the privilege of listening to a most excellent sermon by the Rev. Norman McLeod of the First Congregational Church, delivered in Datt's Hall, the usual place of holding Divine service in the city. A very large and attentive audience were assembled to hear the discourse, composed to a very considerable extent of ladies. Hon. Schuyler Colfax, Lieut. Gov. Bros of Illinois, Messrs Samuel Bowles, of the Springfield Republican, and A. D. Richardson of the New York Tribune, were in attendance. After the services were concluded introductions were had between these gentlemen and a number of officers and citizens present. All of the party seemed to have borne the fatigue of stage travel very easily, except Mr. Richardson, who, as we noticed, showed signs of weariness, perhaps the result of his long and cruel confinement in the dungeons of the South, whence our readers will remember he and his companions succeeded in making their escape, several months since, after repeated tortures and much suffering in the final attempt, which, however, proved successful.

We notice the feeling toward his countrymen are not at the most favorable, as how should they be? That man, who has experienced the dire pains of starvation and seen his companions dying around him from lack of food, must indeed be possessed of more than mortal forgiveness if he can easily forget the pitiless agents appointed to inflict such inhuman tortures. Who, but the recording Angel, shall ever be able to properly paint the horrors of those Southern prisons? What power less than the Eternal, will ever be found to administer the punishment deserved, for the infernal cruelties there practiced? Certain it is, that no earthly tribunal can find the measure of vengeance due to the wretches who, contrary to their consciences, must wait the exact retributions of eternity.

Richmond, by George Pierpont.
It is said that the rebels are still at large in the mountains. New York, June 3d.

The Commercial's special says: The application of Gen. Longstreet for punishment, is regarded as the best remedy for the treatment of a large number of military, not included in the various Confederate armies.

The steamer Wettrah, set, brings Savannah dates to the 31st.

The Herald says: Large public meetings were held on the night of the 30th at which resolutions were adopted, endorsing President Johnson's policy, the sympathizers with secession must not be supported for office, and asking for military Governor for Georgia.

The Charleston Courier of the 28th from Columbia, says that Gov. Magrath had issued a notice stating that his functions as Executive had ceased. The State is now in the hands of the military authorities of the United States. After issuing this notice, he was deposed. A son has been sent after him.

Mrs. Davis, Mrs. C. C. Clay and party, have reached Savannah.

Justice Chase and party have arrived at Jacksonville, Florida.

Col. Sanderson, author of the Florida secession ordinance, had come into Jacksonville to pay his taxes; also D. L. Yulee and Col. McCornick. They are ready to take the oath of allegiance.

A political in circulation in Mobile, the surrender of Kirby Smith's forces. The capitulation was completed May 25th. General Buckner appears to have conducted the last capitulation, as he did the first at Donelson. He showed Gen. Canby a dispirited authority to act for Smith. The rebel navy was represented by Capt. Carter. Gen. Dick Taylor was present.

It is probable that competent Federal forces will move forward at once, to occupy the principal cities in Texas. In the meantime, rebel representatives will remain in our lines to give counsel and advice as to social order, while Smith proceeds through his department to prepare the people for the coming events.

The Post's Washington special says: Howells, C. B. and other leading rebels are expected at Washington to-day or to-morrow, under arrest.

The Tribune's special says: Government has decided to let the Provost Marshals in all the States except the District of Columbia, hold their places in every congressional district, and the same system will be extended to Southern States to officers of the Government. It is apprehended it will be a year before they can be re-dispatched.

New York, June 2d.
Gold is in brisk demand at 38, with an advancing tendency. The country is nearly exhausted of specie. It has been discovered that not over forty millions in bullion is left in the country. The drain to Europe has been constantly augmented, until now, there is not enough bullion to pay even half the interest on the Government Gold Bearing Bonds; a portion of which are due in July. It is a very slender basis, apart from private holders, who can rely for payment of the difference against the United States. In our foreign exchange there is an active demand at 18. Money is scarce; the government having been drawing freely upon the National Banks, and within the past two weeks almost twenty millions in currency has been taken out of their vaults.

As a general rule, business continues dull. The decline in cotton during the week exerted a marked influence on the dry goods market, and prices declined, while the tendency of gold is upward, and that of merchandise downward. Wool remains at 120 and declining. In both foreign and domestic, within the week, there has been light sales of domestic fleeces at within the range of 60 to 75 cents, including a bale of California on private terms. There is much speculation concerning the probability price of new clip, and dealers think fifty cents to the farmer is all the market will bear. Hides dull of sale at a decline of one cent per pound. California dry quoted at 16 cents in gold. Tallow is moderately active at 10 cents. Pork declined 2 1/2 cts. Whisky better with a request for export. Freight to California, both here and at Boston, are excessively dull. Ships set off slowly; rates nominal. Freight firm at 1 1/4 and $1 per bag for rails. Government continues to be the largest shipper.

The steamer, with mails and passengers, sailed to-day, with a number of distinguished touring companies. The export of yesterday, owing to the National fast, all business being suspended.

June 4th.
The Herald's Charleston correspondent reports the arrest of Gov. Magrath, at Columbia the 27th, for high treason. He was taken to Hilton Head and will soon be sent for trial. He surrendered quietly to Lieut. Brock, who was sent to arrest him. His whereabouts are unknown. Before the arrest of Magrath, he published a proclamation, suspending his functions as Governor of the State, and stating the war was over, that it is the duty of the people to forbear opposition, which is hopeless; to reconcile themselves to that submission which the Government of the United States can impose; they can not resist and urge them to resume pacific pursuits, and says he is ready to meet the charges against him at any time.

Advices from New Orleans, report that some of the rebel Generals requested permission of Canby, to be allowed to take twenty thousand of their troops across the Rio Grande, into Mexico, to the assistance of Juarez. The rebel Gen. Price, had gone to Galveston. Gen. Buckner and Brent have returned to Alexandria, accompanied by Gen. Herron, who will arrange for the occupation of the country by the Union army. Gen. Baileys expedition from Mobile, had arrived at Baton Rouge and were well received by the people along the whole line of march and no armed bodies were seen except a few Guerrillas.

A Mobile letter of the 25th, gives some details of the explosion of the buildings from St. Louis-street, including Water, Commercial and Front-streets; were nearly all demolished, and Wall's shed for a considerable distance, shared the same fate.

The Pennsylvania from Liverpool, the 23rd, and Queenstown the 24th. The news of the Mexican expedition is attended daily. The New remarks, if Johnson intended to give France cause to declare war, he would not now be denouncing his armistice with Mexico.

However, that the throne of Maximilian may be endangered by the help of Juarez, who may get from the American people is more, which will give Napoleon no right to remonstrate with Johnson. The Herald says, reliable information adds to this inference, so far as Johnson is concerned, he has no intention of interfering either in Mexico, or what is more important, Canadian affairs. A characteristic letter from Garibaldi is published, earnestly hoping for friendship between England and America.

D'Israeli has issued an electioneering manifesto for conservatives in the extension of franchise. He goes for the admission of most all classes in the State.

The French government has revoked the measure limiting twenty-four hours stay of American vessels in French ports.

The Patrie has reason to believe that the attention of the French government is occupied with the news of the clan festive enrollments in America, and that it necessary, it will adopt energetic measures against the United States volunteers.

Admiral Delollet will leave Brest on the frigate Thomas, with instructions on the subject, as soon as Napoleon returns.

About the end of May £230,000 sterling arrived in England.

The French government is much displeased at Prince Napoleon's speech at Ajaccio.

Liverpool, May 24th.
It is stated that some French Ministers threaten to resign unless the French troops are withdrawn from Mexico.

Cairo, June 4th.
Judge Yarger, Judge Sharkey, and Hon. James Hamilton, arrived here last night en route for Washington to confer with the President on the subject of reorganization of the civil government in Mississippi.

The Senator elect, Hahn, of Louisiana, arrived this morning. It is understood he will make an extensive tour of the Northern States.

Washington, June 4th.
Gen. Grant has issued the following orders to the armies.

War Dept. Adj. Gen. Office, }
June 2d. }
General Orders No. 108.

Soldiers of the United States: by your patriotic devotion to your country in the hour of dangers and alarm and your magnificent fighting, bravery and endurance you have attained the superiority of the Union and the Constitution. You have overthrown the armed opposition to the enforcement of laws and all proclamations, forever abolishing slavery, the cause of pre-text of rebellion and have opened the way to the rightful authorities, to restore order and inaugurate peace on a permanent and enduring basis, on every foot of American soil. Your marches, sieges and battles in distance, duration, brilliancy and result, a throw a dim lustre on the world.

Your patriotic military achievements will be the patriots precedent, as the defense of liberty and right in all time to come. In obedience to your country's call, you left your homes and families and volunteered in its defense. Victory has crowned your valor and secured the purpose of your patriotic hearts and with the gratitude of your country you are to be honored as heroes.

You are to be honored as heroes, and great and free nation can accord. You will soon be permitted to return to your homes and families, conscious of having discharged the highest duty of an American citizen. To achieve these glorious triumphs and secure to yourselves and your fellow-countrymen and posterity, the blessings of free institutions and lives of thousands of your gallant comrades have fallen and sealed the priceless legacy with their lives. The graves of their grateful nation, bedewed with tears, and honors. Their memories will ever cheer up and support their stricken families.

(Signed,) GRANT.
New York, 5th.
The Tribune's Washington special says: Mr. Hastings, the Assistant Secretary of the treasury, has resigned and will go as Minister resident to Berlin, in place of Mr. Tegg.

Washington, 5th.
The Secretary of the Treasury, publishes a statement of the public debt, as it existed on May, 31st. The total indebtedness is $4,655,295,700.00. New York, June 4th.
The Commercial's special says: The Mexican question once more attracts attention.

Gen. Steele has been ordered to the Rio Grande with an army of observation. The foreign Ambassadors are greatly perplexed at the movement. It is understood that Count Monthon will demand an explanation from the State Department.

Post's special, Washington 5th, says: Dr. Sam. Cox of Lower Maryland, is charged with harboring Booth. Harrold has been arrested. Col. Greve, proprietor of the Vancness place, Washington, and his wife have also been arrested.

New York, June 5th.
The City of Washington, from Liverpool 24th and Queenstown 25th, has arrived. Advices are one day later.

The London Owl says: The question of the Alabama's depredations has reached an unpleasant point; Great Britain having refused the indemnity the Americans rejoiner and allude to compensation.

The Paris Moniteur confirms the restriction order, limiting the stay of Federal ships in French ports, and says: France also announces that she will hasten the removal of all other restrictions as soon as the Washington Cabinet ceases to exercise exceptional rights, which as belligerents, it is enabled to claim towards neutral vessels. The Moniteur states its belief that Johnson will follow the wise and friendly policy of Lincoln.

New York, June 5th.
The U. S. Telegraph Company have contracted with thoroughly reliable parties, to build two more lines of telegraph from St. Louis and Chicago to San Francisco. The line from eastern cities to Denver, and from San Francisco to Virginia City to be finished this autumn; the whole line is to be completed in the autumn following.
